

What's hot in the kitchen

THE Professional Chef Inox Wok has long, sloping sides for an extended cooking surface. Use it to stir-fry, deep-fry, braise, roast, simmer, or steam for a quick, healthy option.

Wok with glass lid and rack, $229; steamer insert, $79.95. Available at homewares stores.

THE Wiltshire Staysharp MK4 knife has a scabbard that sharpens and hones the blade each time it's removed. A circular hole in the blade is part of the clever safety lock.

Prices range from $13.99-$69.95 for loose knives.

THE Wiltshire Little Chef Let's Bake jigsaw cake moulds are made up of 12 small silicone sections that can be pieced together. Choose from a butterfly, car, dinosaur or rabbit.

Available at David Jones and Myer ($19.95) and Big W ($16.95).

ADD colour to a kitchen with pop artist Romero Britto's range of ceramic mugs and mini-teapots.

Pack of four mugs, $26.95; mini teapot, $39.95. Available at toy and gift stores.

ADD pasta and water to Tupperware's microwave pasta cooker based on the etched measurements, set the timer and wait. No boiling over or boiling dry. The lid has an integrated colander for easy draining.

It costs $29.95 from kitchenware outlets.

THE Gefu tea stick is a nifty little device that holds enough loose-leaf tea for a single cuppa. Its long, sculptural design allows the tea leaves to expand and release their flavour.

It costs $19.50 from kitchenware outlets
