

Food allergy occurs in approximately 1 in every 5 Australians. The most common triggers are egg, cow's milk, peanut, tree nuts, seafood, sesame, soy, fish and wheat.

Global leaders now recognise the convention of purple cutting boards representing a prep tool dedicated to cater for food allergen cross contamination.

Chef inox cutting boards are not only HACCP approved – but they are also designed to be a useful colour coded prep tool.

Reduce your risk of liability.

The Chef inox purple cutting board is first step in protecting sensitive patrons in your establishment.

Some food allergies can be severe, causing life-threatening reactions known as anaphylaxis.
